

University of California, San Francisco

The UCSF Adult Psychiatry Residency Training Program exists in the context of an ethnically and culturally diverse thriving urban setting in one of the premiere academic university medical centers in the world. Our mission is to create leaders in the field of psychiatry – in academics and research, in clinical expertise, and in public policy. Furthermore, we aim to foster the development of psychiatrists who practice critical thinking and an evidence-based approach in all aspects of their work, to maintain scientific excellence and clinical relevance in our clinical and instructional experiences for residents, and to promote the professional development, mentoring and well-being of a diverse group of residents and faculty.