AADPRT Position: 2020 Annual Meeting Program Chair

As Associate Director of Residency Training, I have been involved in the development & implementation of a variety of educational programs aimed at effectively teaching residents the broad spectrum of psychiatry. I have a strong interest in curriculum development and the use of innovative teaching tools including technology both within the classroom and clinical setting. I am the Associate Chair for Clinician Educator Line and am interested in the impact of mentoring and how to prepare and educate mentees and mentors to get the most out of these relationships and careers. As the Section Chief for Assessment and Training Clinics at Stanford, I evaluate and provide brief multi-model treatments for patients and supervise residents.
