

The Department of Psychiatry at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center takes seriously our mission of providing well-trained psychiatrists who are confident in their skills and prepared to contribute immediately to the local and state community and the field in general. Our faculty work constantly to ensure that our residents have the best exposure and experiences available to develop their skills. Our residency teaches the traditional psychotherapies and we are also an eclectic program. We provide training in pharmacotherapy, telepsychiatry, and collaborative psychiatry. All of this is compatible with our Child Psychiatry and Geriatric Psychiatry Fellowships. We will individualize training to help interested residents to be better prepared for fellowship training.
