

UC Davis General Psychiatry, Internal Medicine/Psychiatry, Family Medicine/Psychiatry Residencies

Our residency programs' educational goal is to develop outstanding, well-rounded, values-driven clinicians, scholars, educators, advocates, and leaders, who are equipped to serve underserved and diverse populations and contribute to the mental health of local and global communities. To this end, our programs integrate academic and community-based clinical training experiences. Our combined programs with internal medicine and family medicine further prepare trainees to practice whole-person care. Sacramento is one of the most ethnically diverse and integrated metropolitan areas in the country. In this beautiful setting, our programs strive to cultivate a community where everyone can thrive.
