

University of South Florida

Thanks to our faculty and training sites, we deliver a wide range of training experiences, didactics, research and mentoring opportunities so our trainees can develop the career paths that are best suited for them. We offer education and experience in various forms of individual psychotherapy, advanced psychopharmacology, neurotherapies and interventional treatments (ECT, TMS, esketamine) and we emphasize a collaborative, trauma informed and systems-based approach to care.

Over the years, our residents have an established track record of attaining national awards based on their leadership and accomplishments during residency training. Residents get early and frequent exposure to many faculty members with subspecialty training and many of residents go on to get fellowship training. Our department offers fellowships in Addiction Psychiatry, Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, CL Psychiatry, Forensic Psychiatry and Geriatric Psychiatry. Within USF, we also have opportunities for psychiatric trainees to go on to fellowships in sleep medicine, pain medicine or palliative care. Many of our graduates develop a strong commitment to and sense of connection with our community and after training go on to rewarding careers in research, education and providing much needed psychiatric services for the Tampa Bay community.
