

American Association of Directors of Psychiatric Residency Training

Biosketch

Paul Rosenfield, MD

AADPRT Position: Presidential Appointee

Dr. Paul Rosenfield is Director of Psychiatry Education and Training at Mount Sinai Morningside/West and Associate Professor of Psychiatry at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai. He attended Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons and completed residency training at the University of California, San Francisco, followed by a Public Psychiatry Fellowship at Columbia University. His areas of interest and expertise include the diagnosis and recovery-oriented care of mood and psychotic disorders, teaching about social determinants of health, promoting trainee wellbeing, and training and mentoring psychiatry residents. He has been an AADPRT Regional Representative (twice) and served on the JEDI Committee.